

Near & Middle Eastern Civilizations UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO

Congratulations on your successful doctoral defense! Our department is proud to count you among our many alumni. NMC graduates have broken new ground in many different fields, both within and beyond the academic world. We are confident that you, too, will find continued success wherever you go, and we hope you will stay in touch as you transition into the next stage of your career. Please share your updates with us and let us know how you are doing.

Our department maintains a running list of dissertations defended since 1996, which is accessible online at <http://nmc.utoronto.ca/research/dissertations-defended>. We would like to add your name and the title of your dissertation to this list. Publishing these details allows us to promote the innovative work that our graduate program supports, to celebrate our students' scholarly contributions, and to chronicle our growth as a research community.

You are free not to grant us permission to publish this information online. Personal information that you disclose to us is administered in accordance with section 2 (14) of the University of Toronto Act, 1971. If you have questions about the way in which the university safeguards, accesses, and manages personal information, please contact our Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Office (FIPP Office) at <http://www.fippa.utoronto.ca>.

I have read and understood the above letter, and I permit the Department of Near and Middle Eastern Civilizations to publish my name and the title of my doctoral dissertation for the purposes described.
